f. Legislative Affairs Committee

SAGE took place on April 5-9 this year. Top tier research schools came together, shared best practices, and went to lobby on the hill.

Chuky: It was great to see the evolution from the fall to the spring. Michigan played a strong leadership role with SAGE. Lobbying was a great experiences.

Ben: Leading off of that, we definitely made ourselves a resource to the congressmen, senators, and their staff people for graduate student voices. I also appreciated the sharing of best practices. Phil was elected Vice-Chair of SAGE. Michigan introduced the VAWA resolution and it was adopted by SAGE and all of the other peer institutions.

Phil: It was good to share this, and we found that some of our peer institutions already had similar resolutions.

David M.: Not much to add, it was nice to see that the Michigan delegation caught on to all the lobbying and white papers very quickly. It was fairly eye-opening. One of the representatives we met with was very interested about the details about our white papers. He also had opposing views with us about the profit-business of student loans (supported it).

Phil: It was also great to see many other groups there as well (Snowmobile's association, etc.), all there to have their voices heard. The big thing is to stick with it and be a constant reminder to our leaders in Washington.

David W.: What do you think you would do differently next year?

David M.: There is a significant amount of work put into organizing the SAGE days on the hill. All the numbers are put together ahead of time, cross-checked with current bills, etc. Then, we pretty much put together a 5-minute elevator speech to present to the congresspeople/staffers. We always have an “ask” at the end of each pitch. For those that agree with us on certain topics, we thank them for support.

David W.: What types of follow-up opportunities are there?

Ben: We are going to have conversations on the white papers, what was good, and what was too much or can be cut out.

Phil: Every institutions' student government is under the same academic pressures coupled with leadership responsibilities. The political director (of SAGE) is going to be in charge of the particular follow-ups with the congresspeople. For preparation, for some of the white papers we could have more bills to reference. We are also in the process of expanding and adding other top-tier universities (UVA, UCI, Wisconsin-Madison, etc). SAGE has a large enough presence to expand and have more top R1 schools. We compete somewhat with NAGPS (national association of graduate and professional students), who cover both public and private universities.

Phil: Our professional lobbyist is also a great help to us in putting together bills and organizing, so big thanks to them as well.

Student Life Committee

Phil: Red Wings game went very well, Adam Duran provided an event summary for us in the agenda. General consensus is that $45 is a bit high, would like to see how to subsidize more in the future.

Phil: Bowling event is taking place this Saturday. There was a bit of a confusion regarding funding for this event, but for clarification it was indeed included in the W14 budget. Confirmed by Chuky Mbagwu. If you are able to attend and help out, please do! It is Saturday from 7-9pm. Tomorrow we have the Happy hour event at Dominick's. Weather will be manageable. Lots of thanks to Julian for organizing!

Ben: We will also be looking at a poker/gambling night for the summer or fall.

Phil: Fill out the doodle poll, let's all go have some fun and relax!

VI. OPEN DISCUSSION

David W.: There is an upcoming transit vote about the incorporating more areas in to the AATA routes (including Ypsilanti and others). This would essentially improve the public transport and bus service in Ann Arbor, Ypsi, as well as better transport on nights and weekends.

Phil: We are going to have a member of the org come to and speak with the LAC. After that time, RSG will take a stance on it. However, generally public transportation is valuable to grad students. It's likely that we (RSG) will remain neutral, but it's possible we may advocate. David will keep the Board abreast of this issue. Please have your own issues as well to bring before the Board for consideration.

David W.: I think we should take a stand on it, but it would be really good to have someone come and speak so that we have more information.

Phil: We should talk about it more in the coming days/weeks. Let's make it happen.

Pier: Has there been any progress on the Mayor's Town Hall? We haven't had a LAC meeting in quite a while.

Phil: I'm not sure, we'll touch base with Michael who is out sick and taking prelims.

David W.: I'm part of the Pierpont Committee on North Campus. A number of groups are closing on North (services such as CAPS, registrar, international student center, and others). They are located in the basement, not a lot of traffic, but also not very visible. We should look into that. Information comes from Michael Swannigan (?).

David M.: Is this part of the centralization of these types of services?
Phil: Kyle Lady, an incoming D2 rep, has expressed concern about the lack of services and/or awareness of CAPS on North Campus.

Phil: We've heard no word on the mandatory criminal background checks, it's not clear if it's been implemented yet. It will be done with our knowledge and “consent”, but we can't stop it.

Julian: It's important to also understand what kind of background check this entails. I'm sure that it will not be very extensive, sometimes it can be as simple as a google search, etc. As a result, consent may not always be “given”. It's also good to know what they do with that information once received.

Phil: There was not strong support from some of the Deans, so we'll see how this plays out.

Motion to adjourn by David M. Objection by Malcom Tariq!

Malcom: Can you please send an email about the RSG get-together.

Motion to adjourn by David M. Seconded by Julian.

Phil: We will resume later this summer.

VII. ADJOURNMENT at 8:58PM.

AWIS Application

David M.: Seems like a really good event. They should advertise more. I'm not thrilled with funding only food, but it's a worth while organization.

Adam: I went through the application and overall I think it is fine. I like that the event is for graduate students, specifically women in the STEM field. Although they are specifically targeting this demographic, I like that it is open to all graduate students. Funding food is always tricky but the amount that they are asking for is reasonable in my opinion. We have funded events that are higher than 3$ per head.

If they wanted to be more inclusive perhaps we can help them advertise. I am comfortable with the amount they are asking for.

Sidney: $3 a head seems reasonable to me. I agree that they can advertise to more people on campus.

Phil: I think it's a good organization. If 70 grads attend, it's $4.28 which is fair. We can have them advertise in the Gazette-- to get the information out.

Motion to $300 by David M., seconded by Sidney. Approved with 1 abstention.

II. APPROVAL OF THE AGENDA

III. CHAIR’S REPORT
Benson: We’re going to hear a presentation from Debra from AATA to discuss expanding public transport to A2, Ypsi, and surrounding areas. Also Taxi Cab association has put out a cease-and-decist letter against Uber and Lift. Also stronger regulation on Limo services.

Phil: How is Lyft and Uber different?

Pier: Lyft is donation-based, whereas Uber is not. Primary difference.

Benson: There are issues with insurance policies for both services, etc.

IV. AATA Representative and Discussion
AATA rep arrives at 7:18pm. Introductions all around.

Chris White: Manager and services development at The Ride. I am here for the proposed service increase a week from Tuesday. I’ll give an overview of the some of the changes and then field questions.

One of the only options for finding local funding is through property tax, and this is true for most/everything. Property taxes are based an assessed valuation of the property owned. Renters pay through the monthly rent, etc. This particular millage election is for $0.70 for every $1000. The vote is a combination of A2, Ypsi, and Ypsi township. Pittsfield hasn’t joined the AATA, but they are on a service plan with us (?).
Phil: Please give us a broad schematic of what the proposed changes would be under this new millage.

Chris White: We want to be very specific about what is coming out of this. We want to make sure that the service increases very quickly if the millage passes. Plans to increase the hours, add 1 hour to each route (most ending around 11 or midnight). The frequency however does not change, in the initial phases. Reasons being that buses take ~1 year to be delivered once ordered. There are new routes serving areas not currently on the map (Route M on handout). Another change in Year 1 is the Plymouth route, would be adding another bus during the day. We have found that buses on that route are reaching/exceeding capacity. The main change is just an extension of service later (frequency does not increase). In August 2015, the Saturday service extends from 10:30 to 11:30.

Benson, David W: What drives the extension in the 2nd year? More drivers, more buses?

Chris White: Simply due to the delay in enabling some of these schedule changes.

Benson: If approved, what would be required (how much would it cost UM) to set up lines and routes beyond the current system?

Chris White: Just did an analysis on this. Every time an MCard is swiped, UM pays AATA $1. The idea ends up being like everyone buys a monthly pass. The question becomes what is the additional ridership upon these new changes. On the local routes, we see that people are only riding because of no other means, rather than a choice to ride, etc. This is because of sometimes inefficient, or long routes. All in all, we’re approximating about $120,000 additional (about 6.3% increase in the number of riders.)

A big change happens in Year 3, we do a substantial service increase in Ypsi and A2. West A2 is growing in student population, including graduate students. West A2 will have a reorganization in routing for that direction. There will also be more “thru-routing,” which means less transfers (“one-seat rides”). In the Ypsilanti area, getting rid of the longer commuting routes, replaced with transit routes (both directions). Extends service areas greatly. And finally in Year 4, increases service in Route 6.

We have also seen an increase in lower income people populating suburbs/surroundings of A2 that also need public transport into the city.

Phil: Thank you for coming in today and discussing with us. A couple of questions: what are you looking at that lets you know the demand along these routes for AATA is going to increase? How is this going to be sustainable in the long term, past the millage and initial years?

Chris White: At this point, we are more responding to demand that leading it. The service change we did in January 2012, where we essentially doubled service frequency (on Route 4(?)). Typically with frequency increases, ridership does not increase right away.
However, with that change we saw a large increase in ridership, and then another large increase 6 months later. At this point, we’re not particularly anticipating the demand but following.

2nd question: 2019, it’s a 5-year millage. We will need to millage again before that. We’ve paid a lot of attention to be able to fund the service, and make sure it is sustainable at the level that we are targeting. Renewed millages have a very strong success rate as well.

David W.: There are examples of this in many other service public transport communities.

Phil: Is there still a need to advertise given the demand is already there?

Chris White: Absolutely, marketing and advertising is a key component despite the demand. Those who are dependent on transit for one reason are another is a market we’ve already captured, and we are targeting riders who would choose to use the transport services.

Benson: Thank you, this is very well thought out and appreciated. Assuming this is approved, we RSG would like to serve as a resource for you. We have access to 9000 graduate students and would be able to inform the body of what is taking place.

Phil: While we don’t take a stance typically one way or another, but we can let students know there is a vote, and if it passes, inform them that the service is there/existing.

Benson: We have a spoke-and-wheel hub type set up. It looks like we would be moving towards a more local routes set up. Looking forward, if I were to be traveling from Briarwood, would I always need to travel through Blake Transit or are there other options in the works?

Chris White: The efficiency of the hub-and-spoke method is that we can get people to/from anywhere in A2 in 45-60 minutes. That is the method we built the system around, and it is widely used even in aviation transport. There are a few routes like that (609, 1U, 22) and a total of 5 cross-town routes that are part of these plan increases. The basis is a hub-and-spoke model, and then we expand service on top of that.

David W.: There is a movie theater in West A2 (Quality 16), and it’s not very accessible with AATA.

Chris White: It’s right on the border of Cidar Township, which is a low tax and low service township. It’s very difficult to extend service their. Issues with providing service with A2 tax money, but not serving A2 residents.

Pier: It’s not necessarily a strong argument about not serving A2 residents because there are lots of commuters and A2 is not a isolated entity.
Benson: Beyond service expansion, are there ideas for app development and other supplementary service tools?

Chris White: None of that is in the millage, but it is something we are working on internally. There have been some issues with getting some of the GPS data, some bureaucracy involved but we’ve been working on it for 2 years.

Discussions:

Phil: I am generally in support of public transportation and would like to see its expansion in A2. I would also like to send out an information email about this. In my 2 years on the Board, we try to remain apolitical and we don’t necessarily have to take a stance on the issue and just present both sides of the issue to the student body.

Benson: Agreed, that we don’t engage in partisan activity outside of the University unless absolutely necessary. Reason being, while this affects a number of students, that number is variable. Current Masters students will not see a large benefit of this multi-year project, but Phd students here longer might. Most students also don’t own property, so endorsing a property-tax funded project is not a sound venture for our constituents. I agree with Phil about sending an informational email to the student body and have them come to their own conclusions.

David W.: I’m also generally skeptical of city ballot proposals. However, they put a lot of thought into this in my opinion. This proposal is very cost and sustainability conscious, it focuses on improving the buses on existing routes, and not putting forward any infrastructural changes. Being strongly dependent on public transport, I think this would help a lot of Masters students. And students are paying for this through their rented properties.

Phil: It seems like a modest increase in service. It’s fair to question how they’ve come up that there’s enough of a demand to require these changes. UM students usage, however, is pretty clear that ridership has gone up. So in that framework, we are definitely sound.

David W.: I think this is important enough and beneficial to students that we can actually take a stance.

Pier: I think we can take a step further than just informing the student body, but also delineating why we think that it is important and stop short of endorsement.

Phil: I don’t think we lose any credibility by necessarily endorsing, but in my opinion it may not be a large enough issue. In providing the information and links to the average student, will push people towards the “right” decision.
Chuky: I second one of Phil’s comments, that by sending an informative email with benefits, etc. will already be a pseudo-endorsement.

Benson: Are there any motions at this time? Seeing none, Phil has editorial rights to send out information regarding the millage vote.
